

Scott Burrell & Dean Burrell in action this Friday night in Huntington, New York

Huntington, Long Island (March 22, 2017) -This Friday night at the Paramount Theatre in Huntington, New York, The Burrell Twins, Scott and Dean will be back in action in highly anticipated bouts against tough competition.

Scott (12-2, 8 KO's) will take on Anthony Karperis (13-2, 4 KO's) in the ten-round main event, while Dean (11-1, 8 KO's) battles John Hernandez (8-1, 1 KO) in a six-round bout on the Joe DeGuardia Star Boxing card.

Scott will be making his first start since winning a unanimous decision over Joseph Perez (12-3-2) on July 23, 2016 in Uncasville, Connecticut.

Scott will be looking for his 6th consecutive win.

"I've had the best training camp and preparation for this fight than any other," said Scott Burrell. "We've left no stone unturned in and out of the gym. I'm ready to go out there March 24th and put on a show!"

"This camp has been all about pushing my limits and challenging myself to work outside of my comfort zone. My coaches have pushed me, my brother has challenged me. All that's left now is the final test March 24th, which I will pass!"

"I'm looking forward to this fight, I'm looking forward to the challenge. My opponent has a good record and I'm fighting him in his hometown in front of his fans, I'll have some people there too but this is where he built his career. I know have to go out there and dominant and show NY who Scott Burrell is!

I feel I am the better all around fighter and I plan to show that March 24th in style!"

Like his 28 year-old twin brother, Dean has also been in a roll and will to be victorious for the 11th consecutive time, and has not lost since 2011.

Dean believes a win over Hernandez will be that breakthrough win that will carry him into the bigger fights.

"I'm feeling great, we've had a great 8 week camp, the hard work is done now it's time to fight!" said Dean Burrell

"You reap what you sow, we have sowed the right seeds getting ready for March 24th, so I'm looking forward to reaping the benefits."

"I always try to make sure that I have fun in preparation for fights, which we did. I'm looking forward to a tough fight against a tough opponent."

Said the Burrell Twins manager TJ Marsé, "This is a huge night for the boys. They have worked so hard to get here and with this night of fights they both get a chance to shine together in front of friends and family. Our head coach Don Saxby has put in incredible work and for that we are extremely grateful. From training, to coaching, to management- this night is a culmination of a lot of hard work."

This evening is also special for The Marsé Group family, as female as singer/songwriter/producer E L E N I will be present for a special performance!

The Marsé Group signs twins Scott and Dean Burrell

New York, NY (March 25 2016) – The Marsé Group is proud to announce that lightweight boxers, the Burrell twins have signed managerial contracts and will be back in action on May 5th.

Scott and Dean are 27 years-old and reside in New York City.

The pair came over from the United Kingdom where they enjoyed successful amateur careers.

Scott was 58-11 and was a British National champion while Dean compiled a record of 62-10 and was a two-time British National champion.

Scott has a record of 10-2 with seven knockouts and Dean is 10-1 with seven knockouts as well.

“They are two of the most genuine guys I have ever come across. Not only are they great fighters but first and foremost they are great people and family men,” said manager TJ Marsé. “They have their eye on the prize. Our plan as a team is to eventually compete for world titles. We know the road ahead won’t be easy but we are all prepared to do what is necessary to achieve these goals, we cant fail. Looking forward to getting back in the ring in May!”

“I am extremely excited to be back in the ring May 5th. Shortly thereafter on May 21st, I should be right back in the ring,” said Scott Burrell. “I pride myself on always remaining in good shape and always looking to improve physically, so I’m excited at the prospect of a busy year ahead for Team Burrell.”

“My opponents for either date haven’t been completely confirmed but I'm working on bringing the absolute best version of Scott Burrell physically and mentally. So I will be ready for whatever opponent is named."

"I'm looking forward to some great victories going forward, I feel better physically and mentally now than any other point in my career. I believe I have a good team and good genuine people around me now so I feel as if the future is bright. Over the next year the plan is to be busy and gradually step up the competition in order to align myself for some big fights in 2017, Gods willing a world title."

"I'm currently trained by Don Saxby and we train at Gleasons gym in Brooklyn, NY. We have a great dynamic and coach-fighter connection. Don works extremely hard and pushes me to the limit in the gym. He's as hungry as I am and I think this is where the magic lies."

"I would say I have boxer/puncher style. But I pride myself on being able to adapt as necessary in the ring. I believe in different strokes for different folks so, I adapt when and where I need to in order to get the victory."

Said Dean Burrell, "I am looking forward to being back in action May 5th. I have no opponent as of yet, but I will be fully prepared for whoever is in front of me that night."

"I am climbing the ladder currently, looking forward to being a world champion by 2018. Training is going great. I work with Don Saxby, who is a well renowned trainer from the New York area. We mesh very well and he pushes me to my limits, which is what I need from a trainer. He is also highly skilled and hardworking which matches me very well. I stay in shape In between fights to give me an edge come fight day which is what I've been doing the past few months. I feel great and I am ready to get back in the ring! "
