

LONGTIME MANAGER AND BROADCASTER CARL KING TO BE INDUCTED INTO FLORIDA BOXING HALL OF FAME THIS WEEKEND

BOCA RATON, FL. (June 21, 2024) – Longtime boxing manager and broadcaster Carl King, the son of legendary boxing Hall of Fame promoter Don King, will receive his own much deserved Hall of Fame recognition this weekend as he will be inducted into the Florida Boxing Hall of Fame.

“Throughout my career, I have been fortunate to be surrounded by so many greats in the sport of boxing, including promoters, fellow managers and broadcasters, matchmakers, and of course the boxers themselves,” said Carl King, who has managed nearly 50 world champions and served as an analyst on more than 200 broadcasts. “This is truly an unbelievable honor, and I am thrilled to be joining the other inductees that will be celebrated with their induction into the Florida Boxing Hall of Fame this weekend.”

On Sunday, King will be presented by Florida Boxing Hall of Fame Vice President Bob Alexander at the Hilton St. Petersburg Lake Carillon in St. Petersburg, Fla.

“Carl has had an illustrious career that has spanned decades in our great sport,” said Don King, who was inducted into the International Boxing Hall of Fame in 1997. “He has worked tirelessly over the years to create his own path and journey in boxing, and I couldn’t be prouder of him to receive this great honor.”

Carl King said he is interested in following in his father’s footsteps and hopes to become a boxing promoter in the near future.

He said he first fell in love with the sport at the age of 8. "My dad bought me a pair of boxing gloves to play with," Carl said. "When I was in the seventh grade, before my dad had ever promoted a boxing match, I wrote a paper called History of Boxing in the Heavyweight Division. I received an 'A' on that paper."

Don King didn't promote his first bout until Carl was 15 years old, but Carl met Muhammad Ali and other boxers many years earlier because they liked to go to his father's nightclub in Cleveland and sometimes visited his home.

"Ali was like a God to me," Carl said. "He still is, and always will be, very special to me."

King was born in Cleveland and attended Grand Valley High School in nearby Orwell, Ohio, where he played basketball, baseball and football. King turned down numerous college basketball scholarships in 1975 to focus on his educational and fledgling business interests. He enrolled in Baldwin-Wallace College in Berea, Ohio, where he dual-majored in business management and marketing and minored in telecommunications.

While still only a freshman, King formed Monarch Boxing and became the youngest boxing manager in history by signing Michael "Dynamite" Dokes. King guided Dokes from his first professional bout through his reign as a world heavyweight champion.

On Dec. 20, 1982, Carl was awarded a Key to the City of Cleveland and, a few days later on Dec. 27, he was given a Key to the City in neighboring Orwell, Ohio. He was named Manager of the Year by the World Boxing Association in 1995 and 1996 and was given the same award by the International Boxing Federation in 1996, 1997 and 1998.

Carl has managed nearly 50 world champions, more than any other boxing manager in history, "Terrible" Tim Witherspoon,

Carl currently is the Senior Color Commentator on all Don King Productions, Inc. broadcasts including the June 7 “Fists of Fury” event featuring Adrien Broner vs. Blair Cobbs.

Carl has been married to his wife Chelle since 1983. They have a son, Jon Carl, and a daughter, Carly (Brandon Ellis), as well as two grandsons Harlen and Emory Ellis.

Here’s what the competitors had to say:

Don King:

“We have a great night of fights lined up for everyone. It will feature fighters who are climbing the ladder to the top. Fighting on a card of this magnitude gives these fighters a chance to illustrate and showcase their talents to everyone so they can make people believe they are the next world champions. That is our plan, and we can't wait to showcase this come Friday, June 7."

"This is a new program, and every program outdoes the other. There's excitement in the air, and we have a great show coming up. Sitting here with all the fighters today except one who they call "The Problem." But he will be here on Friday. Don't worry, Blair [Cobbs]; Broner will be here on Friday. That's when you really want to see him."

Adrien Broner:

"I want to thank everyone for showing up. I apologize for being late. I want to tell you guys what I tell everyone else. You can't fight for me. You guys aren't going to lose this weight for me. And you guys sure aren't going to run your mouth for me. So, I am not going to stop doing what I am doing just to please you. You aren't going to put food on my plate or no money in my pocket. I had to handle business. I had to get my work done before I came here to talk shit."

"A lot of people said I wasn't going to show up. People even got Don King saying I wasn't going to show up. But I showed up. Sometimes, you just have to make everyone a believer. A lot of people have turned their back on me and shut their doors on me. What I once thought was a revolving door didn't have an entrance from the back. I had to keep coming in the front. There was only one man who would take a chance on me, and that was Don King. That door stayed open, and I came in, and now I am here. I apologize, Don, but I want to thank you because you're the only one who is putting 100s back in my pocket. I am here to put my life on the line. On June 7 I am not coming to just put on a show for the fans. I am coming to die if I have to."

Blair Cobbs:

"Thank you, everybody, for showing up to this one. This one is going to be a very big attraction. Just in case you don't know who I am, it's the most exciting man in boxing, Blair "The Flair" Cobbs. The limousine riding, the jet flying, the kiss stealing, wheeling, dealing son of a gun. I'm having a hard time keeping these alligator boots down. We're going to have a great time. I just cannot wait to get my hands on Adrien Broner. Look, he had a good run, but now it's time for his demise."

"We are fighting for a great belt. A belt that's only for you, the fans. It's only for you, the people. The People's Championship. We have a great night coming for you. Come Friday night, June 7, stars are going to align, and somehow, Adrien Broner is going to show up. We all know what's going to happen. It's an ass whooping. Broner looked himself in the mirror and said "woo" three times and knocked himself out."

Antonio Perez:

"I want to say thank you to Don King for letting me display my talent on his promotion once again. This is my third time fighting under him. I had a very hard training camp. Come Friday night; I hope Antonio [Williams] is ready for this ass whooping."

Antonio Williams:

"I can't wait for Friday, man. I don't really like doing all that talking. Friday, we're going to handle business, and I'm standing on that."

Ian Green:

"There really isn't much to say. It's fight time. I want to thank God, Don King, and my trainers. We're here. I'm here. Roy [Barringer] is here. It's time to fight. See you guys Friday. I'm definitely going to steal the show."

Roy Barringer:

"First and foremost, I want to give a shoutout to God for giving me a chance to be here on Don King's promotion. Like Ian [Green] said, it's fight time, and I'll see you Friday, champ."

Cassius Chaney:

"I want to say thank you to DKP. Thank you everyone for coming out. There's a lot of good fighters on this card. I want to thank Hunter's team for taking the fight. I'm looking forward to it. I'm just excited to be back in the ring. I fought in November, and here we are in June, so I am looking forward to having a good night. I have been training well, and my team has been looking out for me. There's not much else to say; I'm just happy to be here and excited for Friday."

Michael Hunter:

"Thank you to all the trainers. It takes a tremendous amount of energy to get a fight like this together. I have had my ups and downs. I've been in the Olympics a few times. I've been No. 1. I'm just in my moment right now. I enjoy what I do. It's in my bloodline. Both sides of my family have been in this boxing game for a long time. I'm going to do what I do best, which is to slang 'em. On Friday, I look forward to performing my very best."

BLAIR “THE FLAIR” COBBS READY TO PUT “THE FLAIR” BACK IN HIS GAME; COBBS SIGNS WITH PROMOTER DON KING

PALM BEACH GARDENS, FL (March 13, 2024)—Blair “The Flair” Cobbs wanted to put “The Flair” back in his boxing game and what better way to do this than to sign with the greatest boxing promoter in the world in Don King.

The 34-year-old Cobbs was hungry to get back into the ring. The Philadelphia, PA born welterweight, who sports a 16-1-1 record with 10 KOs, continues to hold the WBC-NABF welterweight title.

“I’m ready to return to action,” said Cobbs. “And what better way to further my career than to be with the best promoter in the game, Don King. I’m also tired of listening to all the talk out of Adrien Broner. Broner’s talk is cheap. Broner seems to be more comfortable fighting on social media than he is in the ring. There’s no reason not to get in the ring together and I’ll show him who is the boss.

"I'm looking for bigger and more exciting fights. I'm going to make boxing great again. Real fighters and real boxing. Me and Broner will be the comeback of real boxing. Entertainment at its best. Whooo!"

"I'm looking forward to working with Blair and his manager, Greg Hannley," said King. "He's determined to add to his NABF title and we'll get the "flair" back in his fight game."

Cobbs showed his stuff in his last fight, Aug. 6, 2022, when he won a 10-round unanimous decision against former world champion Maurice Hooker, who had only one loss in 32 fights.

Cobbs suffered the first loss of his career on March 19, 2022 to Alexis Rocha, a fight that he took with just one week's notice. With his popularity, Cobbs still sold out the arena.

Cobbs won the North American Boxing Federation Junior Welterweight championship by winning a unanimous decision over Ferdinand Kerobyan on March 21, 2019. He has defended his title three times with two knockouts and one decision.
